A GOD Mystery

By: Becky Casey

Have you ever watched an episode of the cartoon, Scooby Doo? You know the one where the crazy, snack eating, great dane dog, his shaggy owner, the ascot wearing blond guy, the smart girl and the pretty girl solve mysteries. At the end of every episode the bad guy says, "I would have gotten away with it if it wasn't for those meddling kids!" This 49-year-old cartoon was a staple of my childhood. Then with great pleasure and pride, I shared it with my three kids as they grew up. Oh, the magic of the mystery, the intrigue, the secrecy, the whodunnit! It's all there in every episode and I love it.

Preparing to teach our weekly bible study, I found a great mystery in the Bible. Can you believe it? The Bible has mystery and intrigue too. There is a deep-in-your-very-being discovery found in Isaiah 6:1-8. In a vision, the prophet Isaiah stands before God's lofty, majestic throne, the train of God's robe billows down and fills the temple. Six winged seraphim, divine messengers of the highest order, hover around, then they speak, their loud voices shake the temple's foundation and it fills with smoke; "Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts, the whole earth is full of God's glory." What is going on here?

This puzzling scene continues when Isaiah confesses that he is a sinner; I am a sinful man, a man of unclean lips. The seraphim take burning coals and touch his lips and tell him his guilt is removed, his sins are forgiven. Then God asks, I need a messenger to send to my people and Isaiah replies, Lord send me. The peculiar scene is over. Isaiah was given a tangible act of love and coal-cleansing that transforms his heart and his perspective.

It's enthralling that God would show Isaiah his salvation. Isaiah goes on to be used of God, to confront God's people with their sin and to comfort them as they faced a painful future.

This absorbing scripture and the readings that went it this week, spoke directly to my heart. It penetrated my soul. I am at wondering, pondering, mysterious place in my life. Here's my journey over the past four years. After taking care of my 90-year-old mom, I had to place her in a nursing home. That process was daunting. Two of our children moved across the country to Seattle and we have had to find ways to stay connected. Surgery to have both of my knees replaced was no small task, considering I am a caregiver to my husband Tim and took care of my mom. We left our home of 10 ½ years, cherishing our time there as our boys finished growing up, graduating from high school and beginning life as young adults. Moving to Channahon in January of 2017, packing, purging, and preparing for church and community.

Now, I am confronted by what comes next. What is the deep-in-my-very heart mystery God has for me? I am thankful for Tuesday morning bible study because this week I discovered that God meets me right where I am. God sees all the past of my life, all my "historical context" and because it makes me who I am, God can use that for God's glory. God's word is revealed when I worship. I have become intentional when I come to church on Sunday morning. The time I am at church, I shut out the world and direct myself to participate in the liturgy we read, to mean the words we say, to let the songs we sing speak to me and bless me. I yearn to learn from the sermon. When we pray, I pray for myself. For the things in the week past that I have done wrong, for the words I spoke that were hurtful and I ask God to show me anew what the next week will bring and how can I serve God during that time.

I have been cleansed of the way I understood my identity. The mystery is solved because I know God dwells in my life, the season I am now experiencing. There is no secret formula to find holy knowledge, because God's word is there every Sunday in church when I worship. The intrigue? That continues as I follow where God wants me to serve.

I am thankful for the fresh invitation God gave to Isaiah, to become the prophet and serve where he was needed. Your invitation to God today is bright, crisp, renewed. Like Isaiah, approach the throne, confess, be cleansed and go and do what God calls you to do.

Mission Opportunity

Jim Waller, chair of our Outreach team, is working diligently to gather information and details to get a CUMC Mission Team to Haiti in the near future.

If you feel you would be interested in being part of this team, please contact Jim Waller or the church office and he will be in contact with you.

Also, Outreach will be doing some fundraising to help keep the costs down for this mission.

Mission trips are LIFE-CHANGING and I encourage anyone who has ever consider going on a MISSION Trip, that this would be the perfect opportunity.

CHURCH COUNCIL NEEDS YOUR HELP!!

Church Council would like to do a new pictorial church directory of our church members and regular attendees.

We would really like to simplify this process by asking that each family send a family photo with updated cell phone numbers, home phone numbers, address, email, birthdays and anniversaries.

We will then compile this information and have updated directories that we can email out or print copies.

If you don't have a picture to send, we will be taking pictures in the Narthex. Just ask Lana Stafford or Brittany Alcantar if they would take the picture and we will ask for your information and you are done!!!

You can email your information or picture to Lana Stafford at lantwin@sbcglobal.net or give it to her at church, or stop by the church office.

Thanks so much for your efforts.
Lana and Brittany/Church Council

With Gardens in bloom all around - if you are celebrating a milestone, or would like to honor a loved one or the memory of one, providing an Altar Flower arrangement is a beautiful way to do just that, as well as decorate our Sanctuary on Sunday mornings! Dedications will be printed in the Sunday Bulletin.

Call the church office before Wedneday prior to the Sunday you are providing flowers
